Lane E — Tech & Programmer English

Section 1 — Key Vocabulary

1. standup

/ˈstændʌp/ noun

A short daily team meeting (usually 15 minutes) to sync on progress and blockers.

"We hold our standup every morning at 9 AM sharp."

Tagalog: maikling pulong ng team araw-araw

2. blocker

/ˈblɒkər/ noun

An obstacle preventing a developer from completing their task.

"I have a blocker — I'm waiting for API credentials from the backend team."

Tagalog: hadlang sa trabaho

3. sprint

/sprint/ noun

A fixed time period (usually 2 weeks) in which a team completes a set of tasks.

"We're in the second week of our sprint and on track to deliver."

Tagalog: takdang panahon para sa trabaho

4. ticket

/ˈtɪkt/ noun

A task or issue tracked in a project management tool like Jira.

"I'm working on ticket ODE-247 — the login redirect bug."

Tagalog: gawain o isyu sa sistema ng trabaho

On Duty English

5. merge conflict

/mɜːrdʒ ˈkɒnflikt/ noun phrase

A situation where two code changes cannot be automatically combined.

"I spent an hour resolving a merge conflict in the authentication module."

Tagalog: salungatan sa pagsasama ng code

6. deploy

/dɪˈplɔɪ/ verb

To release code to a live or staging environment.

"We plan to deploy the fix to staging this afternoon."

Tagalog: ilabas ang code sa live na sistema

7. dependency

/dɪˈpendənsi/ noun

Something a task relies on before it can be completed.

"My task has a dependency on the design team's final mockups."

Tagalog: bagay na kailangan bago matapos ang gawain

8. PR (pull request)

/piː ˈɑːr/ noun

A request to merge your code changes into the main codebase.

"My PR is up for review — it should be merged by end of day."

Tagalog: kahilingang isama ang code sa pangunahing sistema

Section 2 — Phrases & Patterns

Yesterday I worked on...

Report completed work.

"Yesterday I worked on the payment gateway integration — it's about 80% done."

Today I'm planning to...

State today's goal.

"Today I'm planning to finish the unit tests and open a PR for review."

I'm blocked by...

Report a blocker clearly.

"I'm blocked by a missing API key — I've pinged the DevOps team."

On Duty English

I need a review on...

Request peer review.

"I need a review on PR #312 before I can move forward."

Section 3 — Scenario Practice

Read the dialogue aloud. Circle any words you found difficult to pronounce.

Scrum Master: Alright team, let's keep it tight. Ana, you're up.

Developer Ana: Yesterday I finished the user profile API endpoint. Today I'm working on the front-end integration. No blockers.

Scrum Master: Great. Carlos?

Developer Carlos: Yesterday I was working on ticket ODE-312 — the notification service. I hit a merge conflict this morning, so I'm resolving that first. I'm blocked by the design team's final icon set — I've sent them a message.

Scrum Master: Noted. I'll follow up with design. Anyone else need that dependency unblocked?

Developer Ana: Not me, but Carlos — once your PR is ready, I need to review it before we can deploy to staging.

Section 4 — Self-Evaluation

After completing the exercises, tick each item you feel confident about:

I can give a standup update in under 60 seconds using all three parts: yesterday, today, blockers.

I can explain a blocker clearly without technical jargon.

I can use 'sprint', 'ticket', 'PR', and 'deploy' in context.

I can ask for a code review professionally.
